Interpretation

In this policy “Noble” is a reference to Noble Drilling (Land Support) Limited and Noble Resources Limited. “Noble Corp” is a reference to the group of companies of which Noble forms part. A reference to “we” is a reference to Noble. References to “you” are references to any individual applicant.

“Third parties” includes third-party service providers (including contractors and designated agents) and other entities within the Noble Corp group.

Scope

This privacy notice is issued under and in terms of the General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”) and applies to all individuals based in a country to which the GDPR applies and who are applying for roles with Noble or the Noble Corp group, whether as an employee, via any contractor relationship or otherwise.

Please note that the relevant Data Protection Policy will apply should an application be successful and you take up employment with Noble.

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner’s Office (“ICO”), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues.

Core responsibilities of Noble as “Data Controller”

As a “Data Controller” we are responsible for deciding how we hold and use personal data (sometimes referenced as personal information) about you. We are committed to protecting the privacy and security of personal data. This notice is being provided to you so that you are aware of our approach to the management of personal data.

This notice describes how we collect and use personal data in accordance with the GDPR and it also contains obligations on you.

We have, in advance of issuing this notice, reviewed the technical and other measures adopted by us to ensure compliance with data privacy principles.

Acknowledgement of Notice

We require all individuals applying for roles with Noble to read and act in accordance with this notice.

Accountability

We will make sure we have in place appropriate measures to ensure compliance with the GDPR and this policy, and where appropriate we will carry out and document risk assessments.

Data security

We have put in place measures to protect the security of your personal information. These prevent your personal information from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal information to those employees and third parties who have a business need to know.

Third parties will only process your personal information on our instructions and where they have agreed to treat the information confidentially and to keep it secure.

Core Principles

The law says that the personal information we hold about you must be:

1. Used lawfully, fairly and in a transparent way.
2. Collected only for legitimate purposes that we have clearly explained to you and not used in any way that is incompatible with those purposes.
3. Relevant to the purposes we have told you about and limited only to those purposes.
4. Accurate and kept up to date.
5. Kept only for as long as is necessary for the purposes we have told you about.
6. Kept securely.

Personal Data

Personal data, or personal information, means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified. It does not include data where the identity has been removed (anonymous data).

There are “special categories” of more sensitive personal data which require a higher level of protection. The following lists the data we may hold, store and collect throughout the application process.

- Personal contact details such as name, title, addresses, telephone numbers, and personal email addresses;
- Recruitment information (including copies of right to work documentation, references and other information included in a curriculum vitae (“CV”), application form or cover letter or as part of the application process);
- Employment records (including job titles, work history and location, working hours, training records and professional memberships);
- Photographs.

We may also collect, store and use the following “special categories” of more sensitive personal information:

- Information about your race or ethnicity; or
- Information about your health, including any medical condition, health and sickness records.

How is your personal information collected?

We collect personal information through the application process directly from you. We may sometimes collect additional information from third parties including an employment agency, background check provider, former employer or credit reference agencies.

How we will use information about you

We will only use your personal information when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we will use your personal information in the following circumstances:

1. Where we need to comply with a legal obligation; or
2. Where it is necessary for our legitimate interests (or those of a third party) and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests.

In particular, the situations in which we may process your personal information are as follows:

- Making a decision about your recruitment or appointment and the terms of any offer;
- Checking you are legally entitled to work in the UK or other relevant jurisdiction;
- Business management and planning, including accounting and auditing; and
- Dealing with legal disputes involving you.

Some of the above grounds for processing will overlap and there may be several grounds which justify our use of your personal information.

If you fail to provide personal information

If you fail to provide certain information when requested, we may not be able to progress your application.

Change of purpose

We will only use your personal information for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal information for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal information without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

How we use particularly sensitive personal information

“Special categories” of particularly sensitive personal information require higher levels of protection. We need to have further justification for collecting, storing and using this type of personal information. We may process special categories of personal information in the following circumstances:

1. In limited circumstances, with your explicit written consent;
2. Where we need to carry out our legal obligations;
3. Where it is needed in the public interest, such as for equal opportunities monitoring; or
4. Where it is needed to assess your working capacity on health grounds, subject to appropriate confidentiality safeguards.

Less commonly, we may process this type of information where it is needed in relation to legal claims or where it is needed to protect your interests (or someone else's interests) and you are not capable of giving your consent, or where you have already made the information public.

We will use your particularly sensitive personal information in the following ways:

- We will use information about your physical or mental health, or disability status, to address any possible obligation of adjustment under the Equality Act 2010 which may arise during the application process;
- To determine where appropriate the terms upon which an offer may be made to you.

Data sharing

We may have to share your data with third parties,

We require third parties to respect the security of your data and to treat it in accordance with the law.

We may transfer your personal information outside the EU. If we do, you can expect a similar degree of protection in respect of your personal information.

Why might you share my personal information with third parties?

We will share your personal information with third parties where required by law, where it is necessary to administer the application process or where we have another legitimate interest in doing so.

Data transfer to Noble and other entities within the Noble Corp group

We will transfer data to other companies within the Noble Corp group where there is a legitimate business interest to do so. This may be as part of our regular reporting activities on company, in the context of a business reorganisation or group restructuring exercise, for system maintenance support and hosting of data or where required in accordance with the application process.

Which third-party service providers will process your personal information?

Your CV and other data are uploaded to a software platform operated by Workday, Inc.

How secure is your information with third-party service providers and other entities in our group?

All third-parties are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal information in line with our policies. We do not allow third-parties to use your personal data for their own purposes. We only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

Transferring information outside the EU

We will transfer the personal information we collect about you to the United States or elsewhere if we have a legitimate business reason to do so.

To ensure that your personal information does receive an adequate level of protection we have put in place a contract containing model contractual clauses as an appropriate measure to ensure that your personal information is treated in a way that is consistent with, and which respects, the EU and UK laws on data protection.

Data breaches

As a Data Controller, we are required to notify the ICO in the event of the loss or unauthorised access, disclosure or acquisition of the personal information we hold (“Data Breach”).

If you know or suspect that a Data Breach has occurred during the application process please contact the DataPrivacy@noblecorp.com immediately and follow their instructions. You should preserve all evidence relating to the potential Data Breach.

How long will we use your information for?

We will only retain your personal information for as long as is necessary in order to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

In some circumstances we may anonymise your personal information so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we may use such information without further notice to you.

Your rights in connection with personal information

Under certain circumstances, by law you have the right to:

1. Request access to your personal information (commonly known as a “data subject access request”). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal information we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it;
2. Request correction of the personal information that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you corrected;
3. Request erasure of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal information where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal information where you have exercised your right to object to processing (see below);
4. Object to the processing of your personal information where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or a legitimate interest of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground;
5. Request the restriction of processing of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of personal information about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it; and
6. Request the transfer of your personal information to another party.

If you want to access, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal information, object to the processing of your personal information, or request that we transfer a copy of your personal information to another party, please contact DataPrivacy@noblecorp.com in writing.

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal information (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request for access is clearly unfounded or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with the request in such circumstances.

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access the information (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is another appropriate security measure to ensure that personal information is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it.

Right to withdraw consent

In the limited circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal information for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time. To withdraw your consent, please contact DataPrivacy@noblecorp.com. Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer process your information for the purpose or purposes you originally agreed to, unless we have another legitimate basis for doing so in law.

Your responsibilities

You are responsible for helping Noble Corp keep your personal data up to date. You should let the Personnel Department know if personal information you have provided changes during the application process.

If at any stage of the process you are supplied with personal data relative to others this must not be disclosed inside or outside Noble Corp unless you have been authorised to do so.

If you have any questions, please contact DataPrivacy@noblecorp.com.
